

Over 60% of our income is self-generated including generous support from donations and philanthropic grants.

Your donation will make a difference!

Polyglot Theatre is Australia's leading not-for-profit contemporary theatre-arts company for children.

Each year we reach over 110,000 kids and their families with fun and collaborative installations and theatre-based experiences.

Our creative work places children at the heart of our art. When we enable children to be imaginative leaders and powerful artistic collaborators, we help build their confidence and resilience and support courageous exploration of new ideas and experiences.

Polyglot needs donors and advocates – their families and children, big and small – who are passionate about children's engagement with art. Donations enable us to invest in artistic development with kids and support organisational sustainability now and into the future.

You can support Polyglot's work with kids from all walks of life by joining Polyglot's Circle, our annual donor program.

Experience and share in Polyglot's journey – donate today and help us create unforgettable arts experiences that bring children and families together!

Polyglot Theatre has deductible gift recipient (DGR) status and all donations of $2 or more are tax deductible.
